

ADAPTING TO COVID-19

South Bay Spanish was one of the very first programs to move its entire operation online. Since early March Cecilia has been bringing creative and innovative methods to her online classes. Students receive their homework assignments online both before and during class. She integrates dynamic, interactive elements, such as videos, music, demonstrations, student contributions and textbooks to her teaching. Payment is via Venmo. Students submit their homework electronically or share during class time. No contact is necessary to receive the excellent learning experience that South Bay Spanish has been offering for more than 15 years.
